

We need to protect the do not call rules. I cannot screen my calls or turn my phone off, as it could be a call about my children from their school or something important. I work at home during my baby's nap, and the calls wake it-usually it is a marketing call. This is more than an annoyance - it is creating a situation where I cannot work.